

Don Barron

Don, one of the Barron Twins, passed away in May 2009.
He was 59 years old.

Don graduated from the University of Miami (FL) and joined Readers' Digest; ultimately becoming their fulfillment manager, sweepstakes director, and condensed books leader during a twenty-year career. After assignment with Springer-Verlag Publishing, Don became fulfillment operation Director at the Christian Science Monitor; responsible for its worldwide publishing activities and 48 direct mail subscription magazines distributed in over 180 countries.

Don was honored as FMA "Fulfillment Manager of the Year" by his industry peers in 2000. He was also past president and co-founder of the Chappaqua, N.Y. Rotary Club; as well as a Paul Harris Fellow.

Don married Barbara (Bobbie) Hall in 1975.
Bobbie, their three children, and four grandchildren live in Massachusetts.
